I'd ask why we can't just do it over e-mail, but I'm supposing this is also to confirm the legitimacy of my claim. The service provider I use charges me by the minute. If the call takes more than ten minutes I will hang up. I don't particularly like being bothered with this, but if I can help solve this matter I'll do what's necessary. You may call anytime besides, 8-12 in the morning and 4-6 in the evening. My number is (801)540-4721. I usually don't answer for unknown numbers, so if you don't call in the next two days I probably won't answer your call. I expect my number, and any other information I give you, to only be used for this matter. Thank you, and goodbye.

Dear Brandon,

I am an attorney representing the plaintiff in the lawsuit of David Allison v. Jeremy Wise et.al, the suit for which you recently signed an affidavit. I would appreciate it if you could answer a few questions for me. Is there a phone number I could reach you at, and a convenient time to call? I won't take up much of your time and would greatly appreciate your cooperation.

Yours truly,
